_Lutheran Immigration and Refugee Service_ seeks excellence in volunteer leadership. We believe that in diversity we find strength and that refugees and migrants belong at our own tables of influence. We are grateful for the interest of every person who is prepared to support our mission:

Witnessing to God’s love for all people, we stand with and advocate for migrants and refugees, transforming communities through ministries of service and justice.

Thank you for your interest in participating in the mission of LIRS.

Upcoming Openings

We anticipate up to 3 seats will be open on the LIRS Board of Directors for a three year term (2021-2023). Each year, usually one-third of the seats on the board are due to open as part of a pattern of rotation. This year, three of the incumbents are eligible to serve another term. In addition, there are opportunities for service on our: Audit Committee, External Affairs Committee, Finance and Investment Committee, and Planning Committee.

We welcome the nomination of prospective board and committee members who are committed to our mission, share our core values, and are prepared to dedicate themselves in this service. We invite Lutherans and others to consider joining us. All directors must be at least 18 years old.

What You Need to Know About Serving on the LIRS Board of Directors

Achieving our mission requires leadership from our volunteer board and committees. Building a strong LIRS board requires that prospective board members know from the outset the opportunities and expectations that come with service on this volunteer board.

Our Vision
All migrants and refugees are protected, embraced and empowered in a world of just and welcoming communities.

Our Mission
Witnessing to God’s love for all people, we stand with and advocate for migrants and refugees, transforming communities through ministries of service and justice.

Our Core Values

Welcome: Grateful for God’s welcome, we receive each other with compassion and joy, opening ourselves up in relationship and to the transformation that occurs as we discover each other’s gifts, journeying together in service and justice. Our community is marked by open invitation, encouraging a place for all within it.

Prophetic Witness: Confident and determined, we stand up and speak out boldly, inviting others to join our voices to seek justice when conscience demands, promoting the God-given dignity of all and demonstrating the courage to be consistently fair.

Integrity: Faithful to God’s call to be good stewards, sharing the life, place, and abundance we have been given, we are responsible, open, honest, trustworthy, and accountable as we carry out our mission.

Innovation: Committed to bold action, continuous learning and open to new ideas, we invite others to join our mission, discovering together new and better ways to engage in our shared work of welcome.

Interdependence: Strengthened by our diversity, we are mutually dependent. Our dynamic relationships are marked by accompanying each other and a commitment to work together.

Opportunities Board members have the opportunity to:

- Join Lutherans in welcoming persons who are refugees and migrants (e.g. immigrants, detainees, torture survivors and other asylum seekers).
- Contribute leadership on a national board to exercise governance, fiduciary and generative functions in carrying out the LIRS mission.
- Become more fully informed on the variety of LIRS program activities as well as related advocacy priorities.
- Hear firsthand the stories of welcome from migrants and refugees.
- Promote LIRS and its reputation for cutting edge expertise and excellence in services.
- Support an organization that resettles refugees, reunites families, protects vulnerable unaccompanied children, and advocates for justice for all migrants.
▪ Help to fine-tune and support the implementation of the LIRS strategic plan for transforming U.S. communities into places of welcome and hope.

▪ Provide board support for the President and CEO.

▪ Keep this stellar organization on the cutting edge of effective migrant and refugee ministry.

Expectations

It is expected that board members will:

▪ Demonstrate their commitment to the Vision and Mission of LIRS and to fulfilling the duties outlined in the LIRS Bylaws.

▪ Faithfully prepare for and attend three annual board meetings and related activities scheduled one year in advance. Meetings are usually held over 2 days in February, June and October, with at least two meetings at the LIRS offices in Baltimore, MD. New board member orientation is most often scheduled by extending meeting time by a day. (Transportation, housing and meals are reimbursable expenses for board meetings.)

▪ Be open to accepting additional assignments as requested by the board or board chair. Assignments can include committee membership, using a special skill, making presentations about LIRS, thanking donors or accompanying staff on donor visits.

▪ Participate in the meeting of committees of which you are a member, by conference call or in person. Board standing committees and ad hoc committees meet by one or two conference calls scheduled at the discretion of committee member calendars between board meetings.

▪ Speak with conviction to all with whom you engage regarding the LIRS ministry to some of the most vulnerable populations in this country: refugees, immigrants, torture survivors, asylum seekers, and those in detention.

▪ Richly support LIRS with all available resources. These include skills and experience, networks of contacts, and financial means. All Board members make an annual donation that is personally meaningful and contributes to the Board’s own goal for giving. The give-get goal for each Board member is divided into two parts. This year each board member has a personal give-get goal of at least $3,000

▪ Identify and recruit others to support LIRS with their resources as well.

The term of service for a member of the board of directors of LIRS is 3 years. Directors are eligible to be reappointed to a second three-year term (a maximum of 6 years).

Board Membership

The by-laws of LIRS provide that the board of directors of LIRS is comprised of 13-21 elected persons and the President and CEO, ex officio and without vote. At present, board membership is 17 persons. At the time of recruitment for new board members, the incumbent Board provides
